ViewHTML converts HTML into text files. ViewHTML can parse all HTML tags and clean them to their standard form (CR/LF/Space-Ignore). Because ViewHTML does the job very well, it is the main part of the HTML reader/converter TotalHT (which is a Superset of the ViewHTML), and the HTML decoder VHPG. This program has all features of TotalHT, and many more. For example it can be used as a TELNET browser, as well as a web-page viewer, an HTML hypertext viewer and even an HTML To Microsoft Word converter. In addition, ViewHTML has a bunch of special functions. You can now view your Main Text of a page off-line (for example during long computations), print the source of a page without switching windows, compile text and ctrl-F to find a specified text, etc... Also it can perform a hypertext link off-line with the right mouse click, so you can view a menu of the net, the HTML or links to other text files. Supports all HTML versions. You can use ViewHTML with HTML version 1.1, HTML 2.0, HTML 3.0, HTML 3.2 and HTML 4.0. ViewHTML now also allows you to copy text to the Windows Clipboard with a double click on the Source, as well as with the Text-action buttons on the bottom of the window. Apart from the standart HTML conversion, ViewHTML can also convert all HTML, and was designed from the beginning as a standart text viewer for HTML. It can replace the editor in the Page-viewer, and can be used as a standart text viewer if you want. There are 3 different views available: Basic text with Colors, Basic text only and Basic Text with a Font setup. Main features: - Convert HTML into text files (HTML 2.0+ support) - Superset of TotalHTML's ViewHTML - Can parse all HTML tags and clean them to their standard form (CR/LF/Space-Ignore) - HTML Decoder - HTML Hypertext viewer (also a TELNET browser, and many other HTML browsers) - Highly configurable with a LOT of skins - Support for all supported HTML versions (HTML 1.1, 1.5, 2.0, 3.0 and 3.2) - Can view your source of a page off 09e8f5149f
