Open the keygen. Click on the Register button, save the key and you can activate it. Source: As you can see, there is no way to uninstall/reinstall Autocad because the key isn't embedded in the program. The above answer relies on a keygen. A: Here's how to enter a key and it's working for me Click on the "Autocad 2012 Registration" Click on the "Register" button. Copy the key and paste it on the window. Save the activation I do not know if the key will work for you, but it worked for me. Hope it helps. Q: Using raster and muptools package, what is the most efficient way to deal with the renumbering of a raster after creating a stack I'm using a very large raster file and the script below is creating a stack of contour lines. The script works but renumbering the output layer doesn't, so the below code which should assign the same number to each contour line instead assigns a range of numbers e.g. 10-20 r
