Fayetteville, N.C. – The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) is pleased to release February 2018 agricultural production and trade data. The USDA's Economic Research Service (ERS), National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS), and Office of the Assistant to the Secretary for Nutrition are pleased to present the quarterly Graphic User Interface (GUI) Database Program (GBPP). This release includes data that was finalized in the quarter and will be released in the next update. The data are available on the USDA National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) website. The information was collected from farm managers. This program is intended to simplify the presentation of agricultural and trade data in tabular form. The data are presented in a common format that can be used to answer a variety of questions including demand and supply conditions, rural and urban trends, specific commodities and countries. The GBPP is a business management and import/export research tool that displays statistics on agricultural exports and imports based on US Department of Agriculture (USDA) import/export trade data in tabular form. Total quantity exported & imported by product type and country for the final quarter is included for all commodities and countries. From GBPP, data can be grouped by commodity type, country of origin or country of destination. The data are available on the USDA National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) website. The information was collected from farm managers. Progressive increase of cochlear blood flow after stapedectomy surgery in guinea pigs. To evaluate the effects of stapedectomy on cochlear blood flow, we measured cochlear blood flow in guinea pigs before and after hearing loss was induced by whole inner ear treatment with ethacrynic acid. Blood flow was assessed with 133Xenon washout technique. We first measured cochlear blood flow at 30 to 45 minutes after opening the internal auditory meatus (IAM). The anteroventral portion of the cochlea was exposed and the IAM was opened, its wall was cut and cochleostomies were performed. During the 30 to 45 minutes post-opening of the IAM, blood flow in the guinea pig cochlea decreased to approximately 20% of the pre-operative value. After 30 to 45 minutes, cochlear blood flow gradually increased to approximately 55% of the pre-operative value. These results suggested that blood flow in the cochlea increases during the 30 to 595f342e71
