Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a liquid crystal display device and its fabrication method. 2. Description of the Prior Art Conventionally, light weight, thin and low power consumption liquid crystal display devices have been used as a display means, especially as a display means for a hand-held device, such as a portable telephone and a portable personal computer. In recent years, the liquid crystal display device has been used as a display means for displaying TV images and moving pictures. The liquid crystal display device is also used as a display means for car navigation systems. FIG. 12 is a cross-sectional view showing a conventional liquid crystal display device. The liquid crystal display device has a TFT substrate 1 made of glass. A plurality of signal lines 2 made of a metal material is formed on the TFT substrate 1. A gate insulating film 3 is formed on the surface of the TFT substrate 1 on which the signal lines 2 are formed. A non

said it was not clear whether the firm could meet its obligations to holders of its bonds and preferred shares, as shareholders demand. Icahn's call on R.E.P. was based on an off-the-record call with CNBC on Tuesday. Icahn declined to comment on Wednesday. Icahn does not typically disclose which companies he likes or dislikes. R.E.P. said earlier this year that it had received a call from legal advisers suggesting it offer shareholders more cash than the firm was prepared to put up. R.E.P.'s noteholders received an 8.3% dividend in April but have yet to receive any cash to date. Icahn suggested on Tuesday that R.E.P. was being unfairly targeted because of a prior arrangement with Goldman Sachs Group Inc GS.N, Goldman's chief executive, which allowed the bank to sell assets to R.E.P. in exchange for debt at a lower rate. Icahn called R.E.P.'s issuance of the debt to Goldman "outrageous." "Everything is fair if you play by the rules," Icahn said in a CNBC interview. Icahn added he would not have taken a call from the television network if it had not been based on the existence of his comments and the information it
