Can I get a copy of the email that the Community Calendar sent out on December 11, 13, and 14, 2010? My event was scheduled in the 2009-2011 timeframe, which is not a problem for me, but since a lot has changed since then, I'd like to be able to confirm that my event is available to users. A: From looking at the deleted past: An employee replied with: that calendar is all based on the schedule which is updated periodically. Every time we try to get a hold of it we get a "no" because we do not have that same data. If you were to be patient for just a few days when the next cycle begins we would see if we could get it. Neurologic complications of acute-on-chronic liver failure in cirrhotic patients: an observational study. The burden of neurological complications has not yet been assessed in cirrhotic patients with acute-on-chronic liver failure (ACLF). This study aims to describe clinical and biological features of patients with ACLF complicated by encephalopathy and intracranial hypertension (ICH). Consecutive patients admitted to an intensive care unit (ICU) for cirrhosis (Child-Pugh class B or C) with ACLF and severe encephalopathy or ICH and presumed increased intracranial pressure were included. Seventeen patients were included, with a median age of 67 years (62-73), and a median Model for End-Stage Liver Disease (MELD) score at hospital admission of 24 (21-29). The median duration of the ICU stay was 8 days (6-12), and the median survival was 10 days (6-19). The median APACHE II score was 20 (15-26), and the median SOFA score was 9 (7
